

GO CAMPUS USA

Go Campus is our program for university students wanting to experience student life in the United States. See if this program suits your study needs.

What is Go Campus?

Every year North American colleges and universities offer scholarships and grants to international students as part of an accreditation requirement. Go Campus has a long standing relationship with a large number of these colleges and universities and is one of the oldest and largest non-for-profit student exchange organisations. Through Go Campus students can access undergraduate and graduate programs and are guaranteed to receive academic scholarships. Selection of an appropriate program is based on your level of studies or academic performance (it will affect the amount of the scholarship, your schedule and the degree that is sought). Go Campus will work closely with its partner schools to determine the scholarship amount each student will receive.

Go Campus are dedicated to matching international students with the best of North American universities and arrange everything from the admission process, screening and selection through to assistance with the preparation of documents.

Why study in North America?

North American universities are internationally recognised for their quality teaching, facilities and resources. American universities largely dominate the top 50 universities worldwide. Furthermore, academic degrees obtained in North America are widely recognised within national and international employment markets.

Campus Life

The college learning experience is not confined to the classroom. There is so much more to experience, including extracurricular activities such as sports or writing for the university newspaper. Life outside the classroom is vibrant and stimulating allowing every student to take an active role in the life of the college or university.

Go Campus students are encouraged to live on campus at university residence halls and apartments. This provides a great opportunity to fully immerse yourself in the overall experience of attending a university or college. It also offers a convenient, safe and fun environment as well as providing students with access to a range of services such as meal plans.

Difference between college and university

The main difference between a college and university is that colleges tend to be smaller than universities, in terms of their size as well as in the range of studies on offer. A college could offer a set of degrees in one specific area whereas a university has a collection of colleges. For instance, students attending a university will graduate from one of the colleges, such as the College of Business or College of Engineering. There is no difference in terms of quality between a college and a university.
